Dear Parents and Carers

By now, you may have heard in the news that there are no plans to reopen schools until at least the 8th March 2021 and, at the moment, we have no further guidance on when we can bring more children back to school.

We have been advised in the latest release from the Department for Education that schools will not be expected to open for the February half term holiday to key worker children or vulnerable children, as in the first full national lockdown.

Airedale Infant and Junior Schools will close as planned on Friday 12th February and reopen to Key worker/vulnerable children on Monday 22nd February.

Places allocated to children in school will roll forward in the same way, so your child's booked days will remain the same unless we hear from you. As it currently stands, we have no further spaces available in some year groups, but please contact school if you are unable to keep your child at home due to key worker employment roles; a full list can be found on the government website.

Thank you
Mrs Robinson
